IMPORTANT!*Before using this Guide...

This Guide includes instructions and all the forms you need to apply for a record suspension. Before you mail your application, photocopy all of your forms and official documents to keep for future reference. Your application must include only original documents with original signatures and original office seals or stamps, or it will be returned to you. Please note that you are responsible for any additional fees required as part of your application, such as fingerprints, criminal record, court documents and police checks.

Before you start, read the following questions and answers to make sure you qualify, or need to apply, for a record suspension, and to find out what it will and will not do for you.

WHO is responsible for record suspensions?	The Parole Board of Canada (PBC) is the official and only federal agency responsible for making record suspension decisions under the Criminal Records Act (CRA). Under the CRA, the PBC can order, refuse to order, and revoke a record suspension.
ARE any offences ineligible?	Yes. You are not eligible for a record suspension if you have been convicted of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>› a Schedule 1 Offence (sexual offence involving a child) under the Criminal Records Act;</li> <li>› more than three (3) offences prosecuted by indictment, each with a prison sentence of two years or more.</li> </ul>
WHO can apply?	You can apply for a Record Suspension if you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>› were convicted as an adult of an offence in Canada under a federal act or regulation of Canada;</li> <li>› were convicted of a crime in another country and were transferred to Canada under the Transfer of Offenders Act or International Transfer of Offenders Act.</li> </ul>
WHEN can you apply?	Before you apply for a record suspension, you must have completed all of your sentences , which includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>› all fines, surcharges, costs, restitution and compensation orders;</li> <li>› all sentences of imprisonment, conditional sentences, including parole and statutory release;</li> <li>› any probation order(s).</li> </ul> * Note: If you have a prohibition order, it does not need to have expired before the waiting period begins. After completing all of your sentences, you must have completed a waiting period: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>› 5 years for a summary offence (or a service offence under the National Defence Act).</li> <li>› 10 years for an indictable offence (or a service offence under the National Defence Act for which you were fined more than $5,000, detained or imprisoned for more than 6 months).</li> </ul>
DO I need a lawyer or a representative to apply?	No. This application guide includes step-by-step instructions on how to apply for a record suspension and all the forms that you need. You can also call 1-800-874-2652 for assistance. Just follow the steps and mail your application form, $631.00 (CDN) application fee, and official documents. An application from a lawyer or a representative does not receive preferential treatment.

WHAT is the effect of a record suspension?	A record suspension keeps a judicial record of a conviction separate and apart from other criminal records, and gives law abiding citizens an opportunity to reintegrate into society. It removes all information about the conviction from the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) database. Federal agencies cannot give out information about the conviction without approval from the Minister of Public Safety Canada. A record suspension removes disqualifications caused by a criminal conviction, such as the ability to contract with the federal government, or eligibility for Canadian citizenship. If you are convicted of a new offence, the information may lead to a reactivation of the file in CPIC.
WILL a record suspension erase my conviction?	No. A record suspension does not erase the fact that you were convicted of a crime. Your criminal record is not erased, but it is kept separate and apart from other criminal records.
WILL a record suspension erase my prohibition order?	No. A record suspension has no effect on a prohibition order.
DO I need a record suspension if I am a young offender?	You may need to apply for a record suspension if you were found guilty as a young person and before the specific period of time defined in youth legislation, you were convicted as an adult. The record suspension may cover both the youth and adult records. You do not need to apply if you were found guilty only in a youth court or youth justice court, since your record will be destroyed or archived once all applicable time periods have elapsed under the Young Offenders Act or the Youth Criminal Justice Act .
DO I need a record suspension if I received an absolute or conditional discharge?	If you have only received absolute or conditional discharges, you do not need to apply for a record suspension. If you received an absolute discharge on or after July 24, 1992, the RCMP will automatically remove it from its system one year after the court decision. If you received a conditional discharge on or after July 24, 1992, the RCMP will automatically remove it 3 years after the court decision. If you received an absolute or conditional discharge before July 24, 1992, contact the RCMP to have the information removed (RCMP Pardon & Purge Services, P.O. Box 8885, Ottawa, ON K1G 3M8).
WILL a record suspension guarantee me entry into a foreign country?	No. A record suspension does not guarantee you entry or visa privileges to another country. Before you go, contact the authorities of any country you wish to visit to find out what you need to do to enter that country. U.S. and other non-Canadian citizens are not eligible for a record suspension unless they were convicted of a crime in Canada .
DO I need a record suspension to apply for a passport?	No. Passport Canada reviews each application on its own merit. You should contact Passport Canada directly to find out more about the specific requirements for getting a passport.

The 10 steps to apply for a Record Suspension

If you are eligible, have completed all of your sentences, and it is past the waiting period (see page 1), you can now apply for a Record Suspension. Here are the 10 steps to follow and the pages where you can find instructions on how to do each step:

STEP

Get your Criminal Record

Contact your local Police Service to have your fingerprints taken on a Fingerprint Form.
IMPORTANT: The Fingerprint Form must clearly show that you are applying for a Record Suspension.

Send the Fingerprint Form and a certified cheque, money order or bank draft for $25.00 (CDN) payable to the Receiver General for Canada to this address:

RCMP, Civil Fingerprint Screening Service, P.O. Box 8885, Ottawa, Ontario, K1G 3M8
For inquiries visit www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca or call (613) 998-6362

Wait to receive your Criminal Record (Criminal Convictions, Conditional and Absolute Discharges form) or a Certification of No Criminal Record from the RCMP.
The Parole Board of Canada will accept either one.

If you have convictions outside of Canada, you MUST also submit information to the PBC on these convictions, along with your Criminal Record.

Once you've received your Criminal Record, check it carefully to make sure all of your convictions are on it. You are responsible to ensure that all of your convictions are submitted to the PBC.

If YES
go to STEP 2 on the next page

If NO

If NO, you must get a Proof of Conviction for each conviction missing from your Criminal Record, or for "no record". Contact the court that heard your case and/or the Police Service that arrested you to get this.

The Proof of Conviction must include:

- › Date: the date and court where you were sentenced
- › Offence: the offence that resulted in your conviction
- › Sentence: the sentence you received
- › Arresting Police Force

If the Court and/or Police Service do not have a record of your conviction(s), request this in writing, and contact the Parole Board of Canada Toll-free Helpline at 1-800-874-2652 for assistance.

STEP 2

Get your Court Information

You must get Court Information for each of your convictions. This MUST include proof of payment for any fines, victim surcharges, restitution, and compensation* (including date of final payment). This MUST also include the method of trial for each conviction (either summary or indictable). The method of trial will decide your eligibility for a record suspension (5- or 10-year waiting period) and how your request will be processed. If this information is not provided, the longest waiting period (10 years) will be applied to your file.

Fill in questions 1 to 6 on the Court Information Form at the back of this Guide.
Make copies of the form first in case you need to give it to more than one Court.

Contact the Court that heard your case.

If you were sentenced in more than one Court, you must contact each Court and have them fill in this form. Give each Court a photocopy of your Criminal Record and ask each Court to fill in the section on the Court Information Form called “For Court Use Only”.

IMPORTANT! Make sure that each Court:

- › Fills in all information in the “For Court Use Only” section of the form
- › Includes all of your convictions
- › Signs and dates the form
- › Puts their official Court seal or stamp on the form
- › Gives you 2 copies of all your Court documents so you have an extra copy for yourself, in case you need these in the future (example: to enter a foreign country). It’s easier to get a copy now as the record may not be available if a record suspension is granted.

Compare the information from the Court on the Court Information Form with your Criminal Record and check for the following:

- › If there is a discrepancy with the information on the Court Form and Criminal Record, or if the Court has a Record of Conviction that does not appear on your Criminal Record, you must ask the Court for a Proof of Conviction. See STEP 1: Proof of Conviction.

* If you were ordered to pay restitution to an individual or entity, courts may not be able to confirm payment (if this is the case, call the PBC at 1-800-874-2652).

STEP 3

Get your Military Conduct Sheet (current and former members of the Canadian Forces only)

→ IF YOU ARE NOT a current or past member of the Canadian Forces, Go to STEP 4 on the next page.

→ IF YOU ARE a current or past member of the Canadian Forces (Regular or Reserve) you must get a certified, signed and dated copy of your Military Conduct Sheet by contacting the appropriate organization below. If no conduct sheet exists you must provide a letter from your Commanding Officer.

- › If you left less than 5 years ago, get it from the DMCARM:

DMCARM 4
101 Colonel By Drive
Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0K2

- › Make sure that your request for your Military Conduct sheet includes the following information:
  - ✓ Shows that the reason for the request is for a Record Suspension Application;
  - ✓ Your first and last name. (If it has since changed, it must state your name at the time);
  - ✓ Your date of birth;
  - ✓ Your military Identification Number or Service Number;
  - ✓ Your signature;
  - ✓ Enlistment and discharge dates.

Get your Local Police Records Check(s)

→ You must get a Local Police Records Check for:

- › The city or town where you live now (your current address) AND
- › For each city or town where you have lived during the last 5 years (if you lived in that city or town for 3 months or more).

IMPORTANT: Each Local Police Records Check is only valid for 12 months from the date it was issued.

Here is how to get a Local Police Records Check

Fill in ALL questions on page 1 of the Local Police Records Check Form included at the back of this Guide. Photocopy it for each local Police Service that you need to contact.

Contact the local Police Service for the address where you live right now. In the past 5 years, if you have lived at addresses that are different from where you live right now, you must contact each local Police Service for each address where you lived. If you are not sure which Police Service to contact, ask the one where you live now.

If you lived outside of Canada you still need to contact the local Police Service where you lived outside of Canada. If the Police Service outside Canada will not give you a Local Police Records Check, a signed letter from the Police Service stating that you have been of good conduct will be accepted.

If it is in a foreign language, you must have it translated into English or French and submit both the original and the translated version with your application form.

Show each local Police Service your Criminal Record and ask them to fill in the section on the Local Police Records Check Form called “For Police Use Only” on page 2 of the form.

You will need to show 1 current piece of photograph identification and 1 other piece of identification (contact the Local Police Service in advance to find out what types of identification they will accept).

IMPORTANT!

Make sure each Police Service includes the following information on each Local Police Records Check Form or the Parole Board of Canada will return it to you:

- › All information required in the ‘For Police Use Only’ section that is on page 2 of the form
- › Signature and date by the local Police Service
- › Local Police Service official seal or stamp

STEP

Get your Proof of Citizenship or Immigration Documents

→ If YOU were born IN Canada OR are NOT currently living in Canada, you do not need to get Proof of Citizenship or immigration documents. Go to Step 6 below.

If you were born outside of Canada AND you are currently living in Canada, then you must include a photocopy of your official immigration documents with your application.

If you are in Canada with no immigration status, then you must confirm this by providing a photocopy of an official document with your application.

IMPORTANT!

DO NOT send original immigration documents, only SEND photocopies of immigration documents.

Get a Copy of your Document to Support your Identity

To apply for a record suspension, you must submit with your application form, a clear photocopy of a document which supports your identity. This government issued (Federal, Provincial or Municipal) document must have your name, date of birth and signature on it (examples of these include a driver's license or a health card).
